Artaxerxes vinderstanding the cause of Ne-hemiahs sadnesse, sendeth him with letters and commission to Jerusalem. 9 Nebemiah, to the griefe of the enemies, commeth to lerusalem. 12 Hee vieweth secretly the ruines of the walles. 17 He inciteth the lewes to build in despite of the enemies.

Nd it came to passe, in the moneth Nisan, in the twentieth yeere of Artax-erzes the king, that wine was before him: and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the King: now I had not bene beforetime sad in his presence.

2 Wherefore the king said vnto me. Why is thy countenance sadde, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing else but sorrow of heart. Then I was very sore afraid.

3 And said vnto the king, Let the king line for ener : why should not my countenance be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers Sepulchres, lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire?

4 Then the king said vnto me, For what doest thou make request? So I prayed to the God of heaven.

5 And I said vnto the king, If it please the king, and if thy servant hane found fauour in thy sight, that thou wouldest send me vnto Iudah vnto the City of my fathers sepulchres, that I may build it.

6 And the king saide vnto mee (the Queene also sitting by him) For how Hebr. long shall thy iourney bee? and when wife. wilt thou returne? So it pleased the king to send me, and I set him a time.

7 Moreoner I saide vnto the king, If it please the king, let letters be given mee to the gouernours beyond the Riuer, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Indah:

8 And a letter vnto Asaph the keeper of the kinga forrest, that he may giue me timber to make beames for the gates of the palace which appertained to the house, and for the wall of the Citie. and for the house that I shall enter into: And the king granted me, according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 Then I came to the gouernours beyond the river, and gave them the kings letters: (now the king had sent captaines of the army, and horsemen with me.)

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieued them exceedingly, that there was come a man, to seeke the welfare of the children of Is-

11 So I came to Ierusalem; and was there three dayes.

12 T And I arose in the night. I. and some few men with mee, neither tolde I any man what God had put in my heart to doe at Ierusalem : neither was there any beast with mee, saue the beast that I rode vpon.

13 And I went out by night, by the gate of the valley, even before the dra-thereof were consumed with fire. 14 Then I went on to the gate of the fountaine, and to the kings poole

but there was no place for the beast that was vnder me, to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and entred by the gate of the valley, and so returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did, neither had I as yet tolde it to the Lewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that did the worke.

17 Then said I vnto them, Yee see the distresse that we are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates therof are burnt with fire: come, and let vs builde vp the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God, which was good voon me; as also the kings wordes that he had spoken vnto me. And they said, Let vs rise vp and builde. So they strengthened their hands for this good worke.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they laughed vs to scorne, and despised vs. and said. What is this thing that vee doe? will we rebell against the king?

20 Then answered I them, and said vnto them. The God of heaven, he will prosper vs, therefore wee his seruants will arise and build: But you have no portion, nor right, nor memoriall in Ierusalem.

While the enemies scoffe, Nehemish prayeth and continueth the worke. 7 Vnderstanding the wrath and secrets of the enemy, hee setteth a watch. 13 Hee armeth the labourers. 19 and giueth military precepts.

Vt it came to passe, that when Sanballat heard, that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and tooke great indignation, and mocked the lewes.

2 And he spake before his brethren, and the army of Samaria, and said, What doe these feeble Iewes? wil they | fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? | Hebr. Leans wil they make an end in a day? wil they seizes. reuiue the stones, out of the heapes of the rubbish, which are burnt?

5 And couer not their iniquitie, and let not their sinne bee blotted out from before thee: for they have prouoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall, and all the wall was loyned together vuto the halfe therof: for the people had a minde to worke.

make an er rour to it. 9 Nepertheles, we made our prayer vnto our God, and set a watch against them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said. The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our aduersaries said, They shall not know, neither see, till wee come in the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 And it came to passe that when the Iewes which dwelt by them, came, they said vnto vs ten times, || From all places, whence yee shall returne vnto vs, they will be opon you.

13 Therefore set I tin the lower places behind the wall, and on the higher places, I euen set the people, after their families, with their swords, their speares, and their bowes. 14 And I looked, and rose vp, and said vnto the Nobles, and to the rulers, and to rest of the people, Bee not ye afraid of them : Remember the Lord which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes and your daughters, your wives & your houses.

15 And it came to passe when our enemies heard that it was knowen vnto vs, and God had brought their counsell to nought, that we returned all of va to the wall, every one vnto his worke.

16 And it came to passe from that time forth, that the halfe of my seruants wrought in the worke, and the other halfe of them held both the speares, the shields and the bowes, and the habergeons, and the rulers were behind all the house of Iudah.

17 They which builded on the wall. and they that bare burdens, with those that laded, every one with one of his hands wrought in the worke, and with the other hand held a weapon.

18 For the builders, every one had Heb on his his sword girded thy his side, and so builded : and he that sounded the trumpet was by mcc.

19 ¶ And I said vnto the Nobles. and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people. The worke is great and large; and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another:

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither vnto vs: our God shal fight for vs.

21 So wee laboured in the worke: and halfe of them held the speares, from the rising of the morning, til the starres

22 Likewise at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euery one, with his sernant, lodge within Ierusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to vs, and labour on the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, uor my seruants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of vs put off our clothes, | saving that every | or, every one put them off for washing.

9 Also I said, It is not good that yee doe: ought yee not to walke in the feare of our God, because of the reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 I likewise, and my brethren, and my seruants, might exact of them monev and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this vsurie.

11 Restore, I pray you, to them, euen this day, their lands, their vineyards, their olive - yards, and their houses, also the hundreth part of the money, and of the corne, the wine, and the oyle, that ve exact of them.

12 Then said they, Wee will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we doe, as thou sayest. Then I called the Priests, and tooke an oath of them, that they should doe according to this promise. 13 Also I shooke my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labour, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he tHet empty shaken out , and temptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.

14 Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their gouernor in the land of Iudah, from the twentieth yeere euen vnto the two and thirtieth yere of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelue yeres, I and my brethren, haue not eaten the bread of the gouernour:

Sanballat practiseth by craft, by rumours, by hired prophecies, to terrifie Nehemiah. 15 The worke is finished to the terrour of the enemies. 17 Secret intelligence passeth be-tweene the enemies, and the nobles of Iudah.

Ow it came to passe when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies beard, that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein : (though at that time I had not set up the doores upon the gates,)

2 That Sanballat, and Geshem sent vnto me, saying, Come, let vs meet together in some one of the villages in the plaine of Ono: But they thought to doe me mischiefe.

3 And I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I am doing a great worke, so that I can not come down : why should the worke cease, whilest I leave it, and come downe to you? 4 Yet they sent vnto me foure times, after this sort; and I answered them after the same maner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant vnto me, in like manner, the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand:

6 Wherein was written; It is reported among the heathen, and || Gash-10r, ocmu sayth it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell: for which cause thou buildest the wall, that thou mayest be their King, according to these words.

7 And thou hast also appointed Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah. And now shall it be reported to the king, according to these wordes. Come now therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

8 Then

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, There are no such things done as thou sayest, but thou feignest them out of thine owne heart.

9 For they all made vs afraid, saying, Their handes shall be weakened from the worke that it bee not done. Now therefore, O God, strengthen my hands.

10 Afterward I came vnto the house of Shemaiah the sonne of Delaiah, the sonne of Mehetabel, who was shut vp, and he said, Let vs meet together in the house of God, within the Temple, and let vs shut the doores of the Temple; for they will come to slay thee, yes in the night wil they come to slay thee.

11 And I said, Should such a man as I, flee? and who is there, that being as I am, would goe into the Temple to saue his life? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceived that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophecie against mee: for To-bish, and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was hee hired, that I should be afraid, and doe so, and sinne, and that they might have matter for an euill report, that they might reproch

14 My God, thinke thou vpon Tobiah, and Sanballat, according to these their workes, and on the prophetesse Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets, that would have put me in feare.

15 ¶ So the wall was finished, in the twentie and fifth day of the moneth Elul, in fiftie and two dayes.

16 And it came to passe that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen, that were about vs, asw these things, they were much cast downe in their owne eyes : for they perceived that this worke was wrought of our God.

17 T Moreover, in those dayes the Hebr. mul nobles of Iudah tsent many letters vnto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iudah sworne vnto him : because hee was the sonne in law of Shechaniah the sonne of Arah, and his sonne Iohanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah.

19 Also they reported his good deeds before me, and vittered my | wordes to him: and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

Abasuerus maketh royall feasts. 10 Vasthi, sent for, refuseth to come. 13 Ahasuerus hy the counsell of Memucan, maketh the decree of mens soueraigntie.

Ow it came to passe in the dayes of Abasuerus (this is Ahasue-ned from India. euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred, and seuen and twentic prouinces.)

2 That in those dayes, when the King Ahasuerus sate on the throne of his kingdome, which was in Shushan

the palace:

3 In the third yeere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his Princes, and his seruants, the power of Persia and Media, the Nobles and Princes of the prouinces being before him.

4 When he shewed the riches of his glorious kingdome, and the honour of his excellent maiestie, many dayes, euen an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast vnto all the people that were †present in Shushan the palace, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

7 And they gave them drinke in vest Hebr. wine sels of gold, (the vessels being divers one from another) and troyall wine in ahundance, according to the †state of Hob. occo

8 And the drinking was according to king. the law, none did compell : for the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to cuery mans pleasure.

9 Also Vasthi the Queene made feast for the women, in the royall house which belonged to king Ahasuerus.

10 ¶ On the seuenth day, when the heart of the King was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen || cham-10r, Euberlens that serued in the presence of Ahasuerus the king,

16 And Memucan answered before the king and the Princes; Vasthi the Queene hath not done wrong to the king onely, but also to all the Princes, and to all the people that are in all the

prouinces of the king Abasucrus.

17 For this deed of the queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shal despise their husbands in their eves, when it shall bee reported; The king Ahasuerus commanded Vasthi the queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 Likewise shall the Ladies of Persia and Media say this day vnto all the kings princes, which have heard of the deed of the Queene. Thus shall there arise too much contempt and wrath.

6 Giue eare O Load, vnto my prayer : and attend to the voice of my supplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou wilt answere

8 Among the gods there is none like vnto thee (O Lord :) * neither are there any worker like vnto thy workes.

9 All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and worship before thee, O Lord : and shall glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things : * thou art God alone. 11 'Teach me thy way, O LORD, I will walke in thy trueth: wnite my heart to feare thy Name. 12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart : and I wil glorifie thy Name for euermore. 13 For great is thy mercy toward me:

and thou hast delivered my soule from the lowest || hell.

14 O God, the proud are risen against mee, and the assemblies of +violent men haue sought after my soule : and have not set thee before them.

15 * But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious: long suffering, and plenteous in mercy and trueth.

cie vpon me, giue thy strength vnto thy scruant; and saue the sonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me may see it, and bee ashamed; because thou, Lord, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

CHAP. I.

The Preacher sheweth that all humane courses are vaine: 4 Because the creatures are restlesse in their courses, 9 They bring foorth nothing newe, and all olde things are forgotten, 12 And because he hath found it so in the studies of wisedome.

He wordes of the Preacher, the son of Dauid, King in Ierusalem.

9 The thing that hath beene, it is that which shall be : and that which is done, is that which shall be done; and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof it may be sayd, See, this is new? it hath beene already of olde time, which was before vs.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there bee any remembrance of things that are to come, with those that shall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher was king ouer Israel in Ierusalem.

13 And I gane my heart to seeke and search out by wisedome, concerning all things that are done vnder heaven: this sore trauell hath God given to the sonnes of man, to be exercised there- i Or, to of-

CHAP. VI.

The vanitie of riches without vse. 3 Of children, 6 and old age without riches. 9 The vanitie of sight and wandring desires. 11 The conclusion of vanities.

Here is an euill which I haue seen vnder the Sun, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that he desireth, yet God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a stranger eateth it : This is vanitie, and it is an euill disease.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many yeeres, so that the dayes of his yeeres bee many: and his soule be not filled with good, and also that he haue no buriall, I say, that an vntimely birth is better then he.

4 For he commeth in with vanitie, and departeth in darkenesse, and his name shall be couered with darkenesse. 5 Moreouer hee hath not seene the Sunne, nor knowen any thing: this hath more rest then the other.

6 TYea though he liue a thousand yeeres twice told, yet hath he seene no good : Doe not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the tappetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise more then the foole? what hath the poore, that knoweth to walke before the liuing?

9 T Better is the sight of the eyes t Heb. then the wandering of the desire : this of the soule, is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

10 That which hath bene, is named already, and it is knowen that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier then he.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increase vanitie, what is man the better?

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, + all the dayes of his the dayes of the dayes of waine life, which he spendeth as *a shadow? for who can tall dow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him vnder the sunne? * Psai. 144.

2 *All things come alike to all: there is one euent to the righteous and to the wicked, to the good and to the cleane, and to the vncleane; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not : as is the good, so is the sinner, and hee that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is an euill among all things that are done under the Sunne, that there is one event vnto all : yea also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill. and madnesse is in their heart while they live, and after that they goe to the dead.

4 % For to him that is joyned to all the liuing, there is hope : for a liuing dogge is better then a dead Lion.

5 For the liuing know that they shall die : but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward, for the memorie of them is forgotten.

13 This wisedome haue I seene also under the Sunne. and it seemed great vnto me:

14 There was a little citie, and few men within it; and there came a great King against it, and besieged it, & built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poore wise man, and hee by his wisedome deliuered the citie; vet no man remembred that same poore man.

16 * Then said I, Wisedome is better Prop. 21. then strength : neuerthelesse, the poore 12, chap. 7. mans wisedome is despised, and his words are not heard.

Sennacherib inuadeth Iudah. 4 Rabshakehsent by Sennacherib, byblasphemousper-swasions solliciteth the people to reuolt. 22 His words are told to Hezekiah.

2. Kings 18. 13. 2. chron. 32. 1.

Owe *it came to passe in the fourteenth yeere of king Hezekiah, that Sen-nacherib king of Assyria came vp against all the de-fenced cities of Iudah, and tooke them. 2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh, from Lachish to Ierusalem, vnto king Hezekiah, with a great armie: and he stood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the high way of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth vnto him E. liakim Hilkiahs sonne, which was

4 ¶ And Rabshakeh sayd vnto them; Say yee now to Hezekiah; Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria; What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, (sayest thou) (but they are but + vaine words) | I have counsell and Heb. a strength for warre : Now on whom or, but doest thou trust, that thou rebellest a-counsell and strength are gainst me?

7 But if thou say to me; We trust in the Loud our God: Is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and sayd to Iudah and to Icrusalem; Yee shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give || pledges, I | or, hosta pray thee, to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders voon them.

9 How then wilt thou turne away the face of one captaine of the least of my masters seruants: and put thy trust on Egypt for charets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord against this land to destroy it? the LORD sayd vnto me; Goe vp against this land and destroy it.

11 Then sayd Eliakim and Shebna & Ioah vnto Rabshakeh; Speake, I pray thee, vnto thy scruants in the Syrian language; for we vnderstand it: and speake not to vs in the Iewes language, in the eares of the people that are on the wall.

12 T But Rabshakeh sayd; Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee, to speake these words? Hath he not sent me to the men that sit vpon the wall, that they may eate their owne dounge, and drinke their owne pisse with you?

13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cryed with a loud voice in the Iewes language, and sayd; Heare ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king; Let not Hezekiah deceiue you, for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

18 Beware lest Hesekiah perswade you, saying; The Lond will deliver vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the gods of Hamath, and Arphad? where are the gods of Sepharusim? and haue they deliuered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they amongst all the gods of these landes, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Ierusalem out of my hand?

21 But they held their peace, and answered him not a word : for the Kings commandement was, saving; Answere him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, that was over the houshold. and Shebna the Scribe, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the Recorder, to Hesekish with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. I.

The time, 3 and the calling of Ieremiah: 11 His propheticall visions of an Almond rod, and a seething pot; 13 His heavy mes-sage against Iudah. 17 God incourageth him with his promise of assistance.

• He wordes of Ieremish the sonne of Hilkiah, of the Priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Beniamin:

2 To whom the sonne of Amon king of Iudah, in Ithe thirteenth veere of his reigne.

3 It came also in the dayes of Ichoiskim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, vnto the ende of the eleventh veere of Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, vnto the carrying away of Ierusalem captine in the fift moneth.

my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soule, the sound of the Trumpet, the alarme of warre.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cried, for the whole land is spoiled : suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtaines in a moment.

21 How long shal I see the standard and heare the sound of the Trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen me, they are sottish children, and they have none vnderstanding : they are wise to doe euill, but to doe good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and loe, it was without forme and void: and the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines, and loe they trembled, and all the hilles mooued lightly.

25 I behelde, and loe, there was no man, and all the hirdes of the heauens were fled.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wildernesse, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Load, and hy his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the Loan said; Cha. 5. 10. The whole land shall be desolate; *yet will I not make a full ende.

28 For this shall the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue be blacke : because I haue spoken it, I haue purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie shall flee, for the noise of the horsemen and howmen, they shall goe into thickets, and climbe vp vpon the rockes : euery city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou doe? though thou clothest thy selfe with crimsin, though thou deckest thee with ornsments of golde, t Hob. eyes. though thou rentest thy + face with painting, in vaine shalt thou make thy selfe faire, thy louers will despise thee, they will seeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a voice as of a woman in trauel, and the anguish as of her that bringeth foorth her first childe, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that bewaileth her selfe, that spreadeth her hands, saging; Woe is me now, for my soule is wearied because of murderers.

2 And though they say, The Lond liueth, surely they sweare falsely.

3 O LORD, are not thine eyes vpon the trueth? thou hast stricken them, I Imi. 9. 13. but they have not grieved; thou hast chap. 2. 30. consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction : they have made their faces harder then a rocke, they haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poore, they are foolish : for they know not the way of the LORD nor the judgement of their God.

5 I wil get me vnto the great men, and will speake vnto them, for they haue knowen the way of the Loan, and the judgement of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bondes.

6 Wherfore a lyon out of the forrest shall slay them, and a wolfe of the || eue- 10r, deserts nings shall spoile them, a leopard shall watch ouer their cities : every one that goeth out thence shalbe torne in pieces, because their transgressions are many,

and their backeslidings t are increased.
7 ¶ How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children haue forsaken mee, and sworne by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adulterie, and assemhled themselues by troupes in the harlots houses.

8 * They were as fed horses in the seek. 22. morning: euery one neighed after his 11. neighbours wife:

Chap. 32.

He word which came vnto He word which came vino Ieremiah fro the Load (* when Nebuchad-nez-zar king of Bahylon and all the all his armie, and all the kingdomes of the earth of his tdominion, and all the people fought against I erusalem and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Long, the God of Israel, Go, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lond, Behold, I will give this citie into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shal burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and the shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the LORD. O Zedekiah king of Iudah : Thus saith the LORD of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword:

5 But thou shalt die in peace, and with the hurnings of thy fathers the former kings which were before thee so shall they burne odours for thee, and they will lament thee, saying, Ah Lord: for I have pronounced the word, saith the Lorn.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these words vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem;

7 When the king of Bahylons ar mie fought against Icrusalem, and a gainst all the cities of Iudah that were left, against Lachish, and against Azekah : for these defenced cities remained of the cities of Iudah.

8 This is the word that came vn. to Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a couenant with all the people which were Exa. 21. 2 at Ierusalem to proclaime # liberty vnto them, 9 That every man should let his man seruant, and euery man his maide seruant, being an Hebrewe, or an Hebrewesse, goe free, that none should serue himselfe of them, to wit, of a lew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes and all the people which had entred into the couenant, heard that every one should let his man seruant, and euery one his maid seruant goe free, that none should serue themselues of them any more, then they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterwards they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids whom they had let goe free, to returne, and brought them into subjection for seruants and for handmaids.

12 Therefore the worde of the LORD came to Ieremiah, from the LORD, saying,

13 Thus saith the Loud the God of Israel. I made a couenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondmen, saying,

14 At the end of * seuen veeres, let * Exp. 21. ye go euery man his brother an Hebrew deut. 15. 12 which || hath bene sold vnto thee: and or. hath when he hath serued thee sixe yeeres, sold him relfe. thou shalt let him goe free from thee, but your fathers hearkened not vnto me, neither inclined their eare.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant Vineyard, nor have any : but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live many dayes in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs. to drinke no wine all our dayes, we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters :

9 Nor to build houses for vs to dwel in, neither haue we Vineyard, nor field. nor seed.

10 But wee haue dwelt in tents, and haue obeyed, and done according to all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But it came to passe when Nehuchadrezzar king of Babylon came vp into the land, that we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem for feare of the armie of the Caldeans, and for feare of the armie of the Syrians: so we dwell at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Long voto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the LORD of hosts. the God of Israel, Goe and tel the men of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will yee not receive instruction to hearken to my words, saith the Long?

14 The wordes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, that hee commanded his sonnes, not to drinke wine, are performed; for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding I have spoken vnto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye hearkened not vnto me.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Ieremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule of a booke.

5 And Ieremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut vp, I cannot goe into the house of the Lord.

9 And it came to passe in the fifth veere of Ichoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, that they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, & to all the people that came from the cities of Judah vnto Jerusalem.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Cushi, vnto Baruch, saying; Take in thine hand the roule wherein thou hast read in the eares of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah took the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

2 And the captaine of the gard took Ieremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lond thy God hath pronounced this euill vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath sayd: because yee have sinned against the LOED, and have not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon vou.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were vpon thine hand : if it seeme good vnto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and + I will looke well vnto thee: but if it seeme ill vnto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbeare : behold, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to goe, thither goe.

5 Now while he was not yet gone backe, he sayd, Goe backe also to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people : or goe wheresoeuer it seemeth conuenient vnto thee to goe. So the captaine of the gard gaue him vitailes and a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people, that were left in the land.

7 T Now when all the captaines of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and had committed vnto him men, and women and children, and of the poore of the land, of them that were not caried away captine to Babylon;

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Ionathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth, and the sonnes of Ephai the Netophathite, and Iezanish the sonne of a Maschathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, sware vnto them and to their men, saying, Feare

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Iudah, and that he had set ouer them Gedalish the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Sha phan , 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Iudah, to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits, very much.

13 ¶ Moreouer Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14 And sayd vnto him, Doest thou certainly know, that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah tto slay thee? I Hot to shirte the sonne of Ahikam be in souls? leeued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Iewes which are gathered vnto thee should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam sayd vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah; Thou shalt not do this thing, for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

Ishmael escapeth

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of thanish had done. Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whome the king of Babylon had made gouernour ouer the land. 3 Ishmael also slew all the Iewes that were with him, euen with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 And it came to passe the second day after he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knew it.

5 That there came certaine from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, eucn fourescore men, hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the Long.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went foorth from Mizpah to meete them, tweeping all along as hee went: and it came to passe as hee met them, he said vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And it was so when they came into the midst of the citie, that Iahmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that said vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of hony : so he forbare, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slaine || because of Gedaliah) was it, which Asa the king had made, for feare of Baasha king of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael caried away captine all the residue of the people, that were in Mizpah, euen the kings daughters, and al the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captaine of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah caried them away captine, and departed to goe oner to the Ammonites.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had caried away captine from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recouered from Ishmael the sonne of Nethanish, from Mispah (after that he had slaine Gedalish the sonne of Ahikam,) euen mighty men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the cunuches whom he had brought againe from Gi-

5 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of king Zedekish.

6 And in the fourth moneth, in the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled, and went foorth out of the citie by night, by the way of the gate between the two wals. which was by the kings garden (now the Caldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the plaine.

8 T But the armie of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the plaines of Iericho. & all his armie was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the king, and caried him vp vnto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath : where he gaue judgement vpon him.

10 And the king of Babylon slew the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slewe also all the princes of Iudah in

CHAP. I.

The time of Ezekiels prophecie at Chebar. 4 His vision of foure Cherubins, 15 Of the foure wheeles, 26 and of the glory of God

Ow it came to passe in the thirtieth veere, in the fourth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, (as I was among the captines by the riuer of Cheber) that the heavens were ppened, and I saw visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the moneth, (which was the fifth yeere of king Ieho-iakins captinitie,)

3 The word of the LORD came expresly vnto † Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the river Chebar, and the hand of the Lord was there vpon him.

4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, a whirlewinde came out of the North, a great cloude, and a fire tinfoulding it selfe, and a brightnesse was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 Also out of the midst thereof came the likenesse of foure liuing creatures, and this was their appearance; they had the likenesse of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces. and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feet were + straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calues foot, and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brasse.

8 And they had the handes of a man vnder their wings on their foure sides, and they foure had their faces and their wings.

Vnder the parable of two Eagles and a Vine, 11 is shewed Gods judgement vpon Ierusalem for renolting from Babylon to Egypt. 22 God promiseth to plant the Cedar of the Gospel.

ND the word of the LORD came vnto mec, saying,
2 Sonne of man, put foorth a riddle, and speake

a parable vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, A great eagle with great wings, long wing'd, full of feathers, which had †diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, and tooke the highest branch of the 4 Hee cropt off the top of his yong twigs, and caried it into a land of traffique; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 Hee tooke also of the seed of the land, and tplanted it in a fruitfull field, he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a sprea-ding Vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were vnder him: so it became a Vine, and brought forth branches, and shot foorth sprigges.

7 There was also an other great eagle, with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this Vine did bend her rootes towards him, and shot forth her branches toward him, that hee might water it by the furrowes of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good + soile by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might beare fruit, that it might be a goodly Vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord Goo; Shall it prosper? shall he not pull vp the rootes thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaues of her spring, euen without great power, or many people to plucke it vp by the rootes

10 Yea behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not veterly wither, when the East wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrowes where it grew.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the Loan came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things meane? tell them, behold, the king of Babylon is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken the King thereof, and the Princes thereof, and ledde them with him to Babylon.

13 And hath taken of the kings seed, and made a couenant with him, and hath ttaken an oath of him : he hath al t Hebr. so taken the mighty of the land, 15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses and much people: shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall hee breake the Couenant, and bee delinered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord Gon, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose couenant he brake, euen with him, in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mightie armic and great companie make for him in the warre by casting vp mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons.

18 Seeing hee despised the oath hy breaking the couenant (when loc, he had given his hand) and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my Couenant that he hath broken, euen it will I recompense vpon his owne head.

The time, maner and end of the vision. 6 The description of the East gate, 20 of the North gate, 24 of the South gate, 39 of the East gate, 35 and of the North gate. 39 Eight Tables. 44 The chambers. 48 The porch of the house.

yeere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfe same day, the hand of the Loan was voon mee, and brought me thither.

2 In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set mee voon a very high mountaine, || by which was as the frame of a citie on the South.

3 And he brought mee thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance mas like the appearance of brasse, with a line of flaxe in his hand, & a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man saide vnto mee; Sonne of man, behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine cares, & set thine heart vpon all that I shall shew thee: for to the intent that I might shew them vnto thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, to the house of Israel.

5 And behold a wall on the outside of the house round about : and in the mans hand a measuring reed of sixe cuhites long, by the cubite, and an hand breadth : so hee measured the breadth of the building, one reed, and the height lone recd.

6 Then came hee vnto the gate one reed broad, and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and betweene the litle chambers were fine cuhites, & the threshold of the gate, by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured hee the porch of the gate, eight cubites, and the postes thereof two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the litle chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side, they three were of one measure, and the postes had one measure on this side, and on that side.

11 And hee measured the breadth of the entrie of the gate, ten cubits, and the length of the gate, thirteene cubites.

12 The + space also before the little + Hebr. tichambers was one cubite on this side, and bound. the space was one cubite on that side, and the litle chambers were sixe cubites on this side, and sixe cubits on that side.

13 Hee measured then the gate from the roofe of the one litle chamber to the roofe of another : the breadth was five and twentie cubits, doore against doore.

14 He made also postes of threescore cubites, even vnto the poste of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance, vnto the face of the porch of the inner gate, were fiftie cubites.

16 And there were + narrow windows | Heb. closed. to the litle chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the || arches : and windowes | Or, sallewere round about ||inward : and vpon ches. or porech post were palme-trees. 1 Or, with.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the North and toward the East, and hee measured from gate to gate an hundreth cubites.

24 ¶ After that hee brought me toward the South, and behold a gate toward the South, and he measured the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windowes in it. and in the arches thereof round about like those windowes, the length was fiftie cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

26 And there were seven steps to goe vp to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side vpon the postes thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundred cubites.

28 And hee brought me to the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate according to these measures.

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about : it was fiftie cubites long, and fine and twentie cubites broad.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the priests the keepers of the charge of the altar : these are the sonnes of Zadok among the sonnes of Leui, which come neere to the Lord to minister vato him.

47 So he measured the court, an hundreth cubites long, and an hundreth cubites broad foure square, and the altar that was before the house.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubites on this side, and five cubites on that side : and the bredth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twentie cubites, and the bredth eleven cubites, and he brought me by the steps, whereby they went vp to it, and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

The measures, parts, chambers and ornaments of the Temple.

Fterward he brought me to the Temple, and measured the posts, six cubites broad on the one side, and sixe cubites broad on the other side, which was the bredth of the l'abernacle.

2 And the bredth of the ||doore was tenne cubites, and the sides of the doore were fine cubites on the one side, and fine cubites on the other side, and he measured the length thereof fortie cubites, and the bredth twentie cubites.

S Then went he inward, and measured the post of the doore two cubites. and the doore sixe cubites, and the bredth of the doore seven cubites.

4 So he measured the length therof twentie cuhites, and the hredth twentie cubites before the temple, and he said vnto me; This is the most holy place.

9 The thicknesse of the wall which was for the side chamber without, was fine cubites, and that which was left, was the place of the side-chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the widenesse of twentie cubites round about the house on enery side.

11 And the doores of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one doore toward the North, and an other doore toward the South, and the bredth of the place that was left, was fiue cubites round about.

A ND in the second yeere of the reigne of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed dreames, where-with his spirit was troubled, and his sleepe brake from him.

2 Then the King commanded to call the Magicians, and the Astrologers, and the Sorcerers, and the Caldeans, for to shew the King his dreames: so they came and stood before the king.

3 And the King said vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the Dan. 3. 9. King in Syriacke; *O king, liue for euer : tell thy seruants the dreame, and we will shew the interpretation.

12 For this cause the King was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went foorth that the wise men should be slaine, and they sought Daniel and his fellowes to be slaine.

18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting : neither were || instruments of musicke brought before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste vnto the den of Lyons.

20 And when he came to the den, he cryed with a lamentable voice vnto Daniel, and the king spake and said to Daniel; O Daniel, seruant of the liuing God, Is thy God whom thou scruest continually, able to deliuer thee from the Lyons?

21 Then said Daniel vnto the king.

O king, liuc for euer.

22 My God hath sent his Angel, and hath shut the Ivons mouthes that they haue not hurt me : forasmuch as before him, innocencie was found in me; and also before thee, O king, haue I done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel vp out of the denne: so Daniel was taken vp out of the den, and no maner of hurt was found vpon him, because he beleeved in his God.

24 ¶ And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of Lyons, them, their children, and their wives : and the Lyons had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottome of the den.

25 Then king Darius wrote vnto all people, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decree. That in every dominion of my kingdome, men tremble and feare before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and stedfast for euer, and his kingdome that, which shal not be *destroyed, and his dominion shall be even voto the end.

27 He deliuereth and rescueth, and he worketh signes and wonders in heauen and in earth: who hath deliuered Daniel from the tpower of the lyons.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of Cha. 1. 22. * Cyrus the Persian.

Iosias his charge to the Priests and Leuites. 7 A great Passeouer is kept. 32 His death is much lamented: 34 His Successours. 53 The Temple, Citie, and people are destroyed. 56 The rest are caried vnto Babylon.

Nd Iosias helde the * Feast of the Passeouer in Ierusalem vnto his Lord, and offered the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the first moneth:

2 Hauing set the Priests according to their daily courses, being arayed in long garments, in the Temple of the Lord.

S And hee spake vnto the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselues vnto the Lord, to set the holy Arke of the Lord. in the house that king Solomon the sonne of Dauid had built:

4 And said, Ye shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulders; now therefore serue the Lord your God, and minister vnto his people Israel, and prepare you after your families and kinreds.

5 According as Dauid the king of Is-rael prescribed, & according to the magnificence of Solomon his sonne : & standing in the Temple according to the seuerall dignitie of the families of you the Leuites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer the Passeouer in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the Passeouer accor-

Lord, which was given vnto Moyses. 7 And vnto the people that was found there. Iosias gaue thirtie thousand lambes, and kids, and three thousand calues : these things were given of the kings allowance, according as hee promised to the people, to the Priestes, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, Zacharias, and ||Sielus the gouernours of the Tem-10, lehiel. ple, gaue to the Priests for the Passeouer, two thousand and sixe hundred sheepe, and three hundreth calues.

9 And Iechonias, and Samaias. and Nathanael his brother, and Assabias, and Ochiel, and Ioram captaines ouer thousands, gaue to the Leuites for the Passeouer five thousand sheepe, and liseuen hundreth calues.

10 And when these things were 2, chro. 35. done, the Priests and Leuites having the vnleauened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kinreds, 11 And according to the seuerall dignities of the fathers, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moyses : + And thus did to. Chron. they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Passeouer with fire, as appertaineth : as for the sacrifices, they sodde them in brasse pots. and pannes || with a good sauour.

13 And set them before all the people, and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fat vntill night: and the Leuites prepared for themselues, and the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aston.

15 The holy Singers also, the sonnes ding to the commaundement of the of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of *Dauid, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Ieduthun. who was of the kings retinne.

16 Moreover the porters were at euery gate : it was not lawfull for any to goe from his ordinary service : for their brethren the Leuites prepared for 17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the Passeouer.

23 And the workes of Iosias were vpright before his Lord with an heart full of godlinesse.

24 As for the things that came to passe in his time, they were written in former times, concerning those that sinned, and || did wickedly against the Lord aboue all people and kingdomes, and how they grieved him ||exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord rose vp against Israel. 25 Now after all these acts of Iosias, it came to passe that Pharao the king of Egypt came to raise warre at Carchamis vpon Euphrates and Iosias went out against him. 26 But the king of Egypt sent to him saying, What haue I to doe with thee, O king of Iudea?

27 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee : for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with mee, yes the Lord is with mee hasting me forward : Depart from me and be not against the Lord.

28 Howbeit Iosias did not turne backe his chariot from him, but vndertooke to fight with him, not regarding the words of the Prophet Ieremie, spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29 But joyned battell with him in the plaine of Magiddo, and the princes came against king Iosias.

30 Then said the king vnto his seruants, carry me away out of the battell for I am very weake: and immediately his seruants tooke him away out of the battell.

31 Then gate he vp vpon his second chariot, and being brought backe to Ierusalem, dyed, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in all Iury they mourned for Iosias, yea Ieremie the Prophet lamented for Iosias, and the cheefe men with the women made lamentation for him vuto this day : and this was giuen out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel.

33 These things are written in the booke of the stories of the kings of Iudah, and enery one of the acts that Iosias did, and his glory, and his vnderstanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the bookes of the Kings of Israel and Iudea.

$4 *And the people tooke Ioachaz 2. King. the sonne of Iosias, and made him king chron. 36. 1. in stead of Iosias his father, when hee was twentie and three yeeres old.

35 And he reigned in Iudea and in Ierusalem three moneths : and then the King of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Ierusalem.

S6 And he set a taxe vpon the land of an hundreth talents of silver, and one talent of gold.

19 Now if this citie, and the walles thereof be made vp againe, they will not onely refuse to giue tribute, but also rebell against kings. 20 And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the Temple, are now in hand, we thinke it meete not to neglect such a matter.

24 Wherefore now wee doe declare vnto thee. (O lord the king) that if this citie bee built againe, and the walles thereof set vp anew, thou shalt from hencefoorth haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then the King wrote backe againe to Rathumus the storie-writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in comlmission, and dwellers in Samaria and Syria, and Phenice, after this maner.

4 Then three yong men that were of the guard, that kept the kings body, spake one to another:

19 It maketh the minde of the king, and of the father lesse childe to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poore man and of the rich:

20 It turneth also every thought into iollitie and mirth, so that a man remembreth neither sorow nor debt:

21 And it maketh euery heart rich. so that a man remembreth neither king nor gouernour; and it maketh to speake all things by talents:

22 And when they are in their cups they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a litle after draw out swords:

6 Likewise for those that are no souldiers, and have not to doe with warres, but vse husbandrie; when they haue reaped againe, that which they had sowen, they bring it to the King, and compell one another to pay tribute vnto the King.

7 And yet he is but one man; if hee commaund to kill, they kill, if he command to spare, they spare.

8 If he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if hee command to build, they build:

12 O yee men, how should not the King be mightiest, when in such sort he is obeyed? and he held his tongue.

18 Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the truth (this was Zorobabel) beganne to speake.

14 O yee men, it is not the great King, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wine that + excelleth; who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship ouer them, are they not women? 15 Women haue borne the King and all the people, that beare rule hy sea and land.

16 Euen of the came they : & they nonrished them vp that planted the vineyards from whence the wine commeth.

17 These also make garments for men; these bring glory vnto men, and without women cannot men be.

18 Yea and if men haue gathered together gold and siluer, or any other goodly thing, doe they not love a woman, which is comely in fauour and beautie?

19 And letting all those things goe, doe they not gape, and euen with open mouth fixe their eyes fast on her; and haue not all men more desire vnto her, then vnto silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoeuer?

20 A man leaueth his owne father

ment : if they get the victory, they bring | that brought him vp, and his owne countrie, and clesueth vnto his wife.

21 He stickes not to spend his life with his wife, and remembreth neither father, nor mother, nor countrey, 22 By this also you must know, that women have dominion ouer you: doe yee not labour and toyle, and give and bring all to the woman?

23 Yea a man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to rob, and to steale, to saile vpon the sea, and vpon rivers, 24 And looketh voon a lyon, and goeth in the darknesse, and when he hath stolen, spoiled and robbed, he bringeth it, to his loue.

25 Wherefore a man loueth his wife better then father and mother.

26 Yea many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and lor, grower become seruants for their sakes:

27 Many also haue perished, haue erred, and sinned for women.

28 And now doe yee not belieue me? is not the King great in his power? doe not all regions feare to touch him?

32 O ye men, how can it be but women hould be strong, seeing they doe thus?

33 Then the king & the princes looked one vpon another : so he began to speake of the trueth.

84 O ye men, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heauen, swift is the Sunne in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course againe to his lowne place in one day.

35 Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is the truth, and stronger then all things.

43 Then said hee vnto the king, Remember thy vow which thou hast vowed to build Ierusalem in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, 44 And to send away all the vessels that were taken away out of Icrusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when hee vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them againe thither.

45 Thou also hast vowed to build vp the Temple, which the Edomites burnt when Iudea was made desolate by the Chaldees.

46 And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberalitie proceeding from thy selfe : I desire therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance wherof with thine owne mouth thou hast vowed to the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king stood vp and kissed him, and wrote letters for him vnto all the treasurers and lieutenants, and captaines and gouernours that they should safely convey on their way, both him, and all those that go vp with him to build Ierusalem.

4 And that whosoeuer met not there within two or three dayes according as the Elders that bare rule, appointed, their cattell should be seized to the vse of the Temple, and himselfe cast out from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three dayes were all they of the tribe of Iuda and Beniamin gathered together at Ierusalem the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.

6 And all the multitude sate trembling in the broad court of the Temple, because of the present foule weather.

7 So Esdras arose vp, and said vnto them, Ye have transgressed the law in marrying strange wines, thereby to increase the sinnes of Israel.

8 And now by confessing give glory vnto the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And doe his will, and separate your selues from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.

10 Then cryed the whole multitude, and sayd with a loude voice; Like as thou hast spoken, so will we doe.

11 But forasmuch as the people are many, and it is foule weather, so that wee cannot stand without, and this is not a worke of a day or two, seeing our sinne in these things is spread farre:

12 Therefore let the rulers of the multitude || stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives, come at the time appointed,

13 And with them the Rulers and Iudges of euery place, till we turne away the wrath of the Lord from vs, for this matter.

14 Then Ionathan the sonne of Asael, and Ezechias the sonne of Theocanus, accordingly tooke this matter vpon them : and Mosollam, and Leuis, and Sabbatheus helped them.

15 And they that were of the capt iutie, did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the Priest chose vnto him the principal men of their families, all by name; and in the first day of the tenth moneth, they sate together to examine the matter.

17 So their cause that helde strange wives, was brought to an ende in the first day of the first moneth.

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see, & I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I said, Telon my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Goe thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I and said, What man is able to doe that, that thou shoul-

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how great dwellings are in the midst of v sea, or how many springs are in the beginning of the deepe, or how many springs are about the firmament, or which are the outgoings of Paradise:

8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe into the deepe, nor as yet into hell, neither did I euer climbe vp into heauen.

9 Neuerthelesse, now have I asked thee but onely of the fire and winde, and of the day where through thou hast passed, and of things fro which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me uo answeere of them.

23 For it was not my minde to be curious of the high things, but of such as passe by vs dayly, namely wherefore Israel is given vp as a reproch to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loued, is given over vnto vngodly nations, and why the Lawe of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written Couenants come to linone effect.

24 And wee passe away out of the world as grassehoppers, and our life is astonishment and feare, and we are not Lord that bearest rule, even we all are

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marueile, for the world lasteth fast to passe away, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is ful of varighteousnesse and infirmities.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I wil tell thee; for the euil is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If therefore that which is sowen. be not turned vpside downe; and if the place where the euil is sowen passe not away, then cannot it come that is sowen with good.

30 For the graine of enill seed hath bene sowen in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much vngodlinesse hath it brought vp vnto this time? and how much shall it yet bring foorth vntill the fitime of threshing come.

S1 Ponder now by thy selfe, how great fruit of wickednesse the graine of euil seed hath brought forth.

38 Then answered I, and said, O full of impletie.

39 And for our sakes peraduenture it is that the floores of the righteous are not filled, because of the sinnes of them that dwell voon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a wman with childe, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her?

41 Then said I, No Lord, that can she not. And he said vnto mee, In the grave, the chambers of soules are like the wombe of a woman :

22 And suddenly shal the sowen places appeare vasowen, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty.

23 And the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth they shalbe suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friendes fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in feare with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountaines shall stand still, and in three houres they shall not runne.

25 Whosoeuer remaineth from all these that I have told thee, shall escape, and see my saluation, and the ende of your world.

26 And the men that are received. shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shalbe changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For euil shalbe put out, and deceit shalbe quenched.

28 As for faith, it shall flourish, corruption shalbe ouercome, & the trueth which hath bene so long without fruit, shalbe declared.

29 And when hee talked with mee, behold, I looked by little and little vpon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he vnto me, I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, & fast seuen daies againe, I shal tel thee greater things || by day, then I have heard.

32 For thy voice is heard before the most High : for the mighty hath seene thy righteous dealing, he hath seene also thy chastitie, which thou hast had euer since thy youth.

33 And therefore hath he sent mee to shew thee al these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, & feare not.

34 And hasten not with the times that are past, to thinke vaine things, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept againe, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfill the three weekes which he told me.

36 And in the eight night was my heart vexed within mee againe, and I began to speake before the most High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse.

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest from the beginning of the creation, euen the first day, & saidest thus, * Let * Gen. 1. 1. heauen and earth bee made: and thy word was a perfect worke.

39 And then was the spirit, and darkenesse, and silence were on every side: the sound of mans voice was not vet formed.

40 Then commandedst thou a faire light to come foorth of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare.

41 Vpon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might goe vp, and the other remaine beneath.

42 Vpon the thirde day thou didst commaund that the waters should bee gathered in the seventh part of the earth : sixe parts hast thou dried vp and kept them, to the intent that of these some being planted of God and tilled. might serue thee.

43 For as soone as thy word went foorth, the worke was made.

44 For immediatly there was great and innumerable fruit, and many and divers pleasures for the taste, & flowers of vnchangeable colour, and odours of wonderfull smell: and this was done the third day.

45 * Vpon the fourth day thou commandedst that the Sunne should shine. and the Moone give her light, and the starres should be in order, 46 And gauest them a charge to do seruice vnto man, that was to be made. Gen. 1. 15.

47 Vpon the fift day, thou saydst vnto the seventh part, where the waters Gene. 1. 20. were gathered, that it should bring foorth liuing creatures, foules and fishes : and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water, and without life, brought foortb liuing things at the commandement of God, that al people might praise thy wondrous works.

49 Then didst thou ordeine two liuing creatures, the one thou calledst || E- | Behemoth noch, and the other Leuiathan, 50 And didst separate the one from the other : for the seventh part (namely where the water was gathered together) might not hold them both.

he should dwel in the same part, where | | went not through the narrow, how in are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou ga uest the seuenth part, namely the moist, and hast kept him to be deuoured of whom thou wilt, and when.

53 Vpon the sixt day thou gauest commaundement vnto the earth, that before thee it should bring foorth beasts, cattell, and creeping things:

54 And after these, Adam also whom thou madest lord of all thy creatures, of him come wee all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou madest the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like vnto spittle, and hast likened the abundance of them vnto a drop that falleth from a vessell.

57 And now, O Lord, behold, these heathen, which have ever been reputed as nothing, haue begun to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But wee thy people (whom thou hast called thy first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are given into their hands.

59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why doe we not possesse an inheritance with the world? how long shall this endure?

CHAP. VII.

4 The way is narrow. 12 When it was made narrow. 28 All shall die and rise againe. 33 Christ shall sit in judgement. 46 God hath not made Paradise in vaine, 62 & is merciful.

ND when I had made an ende of speaking these words, there was sent vn-to mee the Angel which had beene sent vnto mee the nights afore. 2 And he said vnto me, Vp Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speake on, my God. Then said he vnto me, The Sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great.

4 But put the case the entrance were narrow, and like a river,

5 Who then could goe into the Sea to looke vyon it, and to rule it? If hee could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing. A city is builded, and set v pon a broad field, and is full of all good things.

7 The entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a | dangerous place to fall, Or, steepe like as if there were a fire on the right place. hand, and on the left a deepe water.

8 And one only path between them both, euen betweene the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man goe there at once.

9 If this city now were given vnto a man for an inheritance, if he neuer shall passe the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said lie vnto me, Euch so also is Israels 11 Because for their sakes I made the world : and when Adam transgressed my Statutes, then was decreed that now is done.

12 Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, full of sorrow and trausile: they are but few and cuill, full of perils, and very painefull.

13 For the entrances of the ||elder 10r, greater world were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruit.

14 If then they that line, labour not to enter these strait and vaine things, they can neuer receine those that are laide vp for them.

15 Now therefore why disquietest thou thy selfe, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moolucd, whereas thou art but mortall?

16 Why hast thou not considered in thy minde this thing that is to come, rather then that which is present?

17 Then answered I, and sayd, O Lord, that bearest rule, thou hast ordained in thy * Law, that the righteous . Deut. 8. 1 should inherite these things, but that the vngodly should perish

18 Neuerthelesse, the righteous shal suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that have done wickedly, have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide.

19 And he said vnto me, There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath understanding aboue the highest.

20 For there be many that perish in this life, because they despise the Lawe of God that is set before them.

21 For God hath given strait com-

26 Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I have told thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, and she comming forth shall be seene, that now is withdrawen from the earth.

27 And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid euils, shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shall be reuealed with those that be with him, and they that remaine shall rejoyce within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After these yeeres shall my sonne Christ die, and all men that have life.

30 And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven dayes, like as in the I former judgements : so that no man shall remaine.

31 And after seuen dayes, the world that yet awaketh not shall be raised vp. and that shall die, that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that are asleepe in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell in silence, and the secret places shall deliner those soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most high shall appeare vpon the seate of judgement, and miserie shall passe away, and the long suffering shall haue an end.

34 But iudgement onely shall remaine, trueth shall stand, and faith shall waxe strong.

35 And the worke shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and the good deeds shall be of force, and wicked deeds shall beare no rule.

43 But the day of doome shall be the end of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is past.

44 Intemperancie is at an end, infidelity is cut off, righteousnesse is growen, and trueth is sprung vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor to oppresse him that hath gotten the victory

13 And thou shalt mortifie it as the creature, and quicken it as thy worke.

14 If therefore thou shalt destroy him which with so great *labour was fashioned, it is an easie thing to be ordeined by thy Commaundement, that the thing which was made might be preserued.

15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speake (touching man in generall, thou knowest best) but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sory,

16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourne, and for Israel. for whom I am heauy, and for Iacob. for whose sake I am troubled:

17 Therefore will I begin to pray before thee, for my selfe, and for them: for I see the falles of vs that dwell in the land.

18 But I haue heard the swiftnesse of the ludge which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and understand my wordes, and I shall speake before thee : this is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken vp : and I said;

20 O'Lord, Thou that dwellest in cuerlastingnes, which beholdest from a boue, things in the heaven, & in the aire. 21 Whose Throne is inestimable, whose glory may not be comprehended, before whom the hosts of Angels stand with trembling, 46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for the present; and things to come, for such as be to come.

47 For thou commest farre short, that thou shouldest be able to loue my creature more then I : but I have oft times drawen nigh vnto thee, and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.

42 I answered then, and said, If is no God, yea and that knowing they must die.

59 For as the things aforesaid shall receiue you, so thirst and paine are prepared for them; for it was not his will that men should come to nought.

60 But they which be created, haue defiled the Name of him that made them, and were vuthankefull vnto him which prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my judgement now at hand.

62 These things have I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto thee, and a fewe like thee. Theu answered I, and said.

Who shall be saued, and who not . 19 Al the world is now corrupted: 22 Yet God doeth sale a few. 33 Hee complaineth that those perish which keepe Gods Law: 38 and seeth a woman lamenting in a field.

33 Yet they that received it, perished, because they kept not the thing that was sowen in them.

36 For we that have received the law perish by sinne, and our heart also which received it.

37 Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked backe with mine leyes, & vpon the right side I saw a woman, and behold, she mourned, & wept with a loud voyce, and was much grieued in heart, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes vpon her head.

Nd it so came to passe, that when my sonne was en-tred into his wedding chamber, he fell downe and died.

2 Then we all ouerthrew the lights, and all my ||neighbours rose vp to comfort me, so I tooke my rest vnto the se-

3 And it came to passe when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet; then rose I vp by night and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest.

4 And I doe now purpose not to returne into the citie, but here to stay, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne, & to fast vntil I die.

5 Then left I the || meditations wherein I was, and spake to her in 10 For out of her came all at the first. and out of her shal all others come; and behold they walke almost all into destruction, and a multitude of them is vtterly irrooted out.

11 Who then should make more mourning, then she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which art sory but for one?

12 But if thou sayest vnto me, My lamentation is not like the earths, because I have lost the fruit of my womb. which I brought foorth with paines, and bare with sorrowes.

16 For if thou shalt acknowledge the determination of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy sonne in time, and shalt be commended amongst women.

17 Goe thy way then into the citie, to thine husband.

18 And she said vnto me, That will I not doe: I will not goe into the city, but here will I die.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heauinesse, and put away the multitude of sorrowes, that the mighty may be mercifull vnto thee againe, and the highest shal give thee rest, and ease from thy labour.

25 And it came to passe while I was talking with her, behold her face voon a sudden shined exceedingly, & her countenance glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And behold suddenly, she made a great cry very fearful: so that the earth shooke at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a large place shewed it selfe from the foundations : then was I afraid, and cried with a lowd voice, and said,

28 Where is *Vriel the Angel, who came vnto mee at the first? for hee hath on, most he caused me to fall into many || traunces, multitude in and mine end is turned into corruption and my prayer to rebuke.

33 And hee said vnto me, Stand vp manfully, and I wil aduise thee.

34 Then said I, Speake on, my lord in me, onely forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope.

40 This therefore is the meaning of the vision which thou lately sawest.

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganst to comfort her:

CHAP. XI.

1 Hee seeth in his dreame an Eagle comming out of the Sea : 37 And a Lion out of a wood talking to the Eagle.

llen saw I a dreame, and hen saw I a utcant, which here came vp from the Sea an Eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, & three heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, she spred her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blewe on her, and were gathered together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grewe other contrary feathers, and they became little feathers. and small.

4 But her heads were at rest: the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet rested + it with the residue.

5 Moreouer I beheld, and loe, the Eagle flew with her feathers, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer them that dwelt therein.

6 And I saw that all things under heauen were subject vnto her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 And I beheld, and loe, the Eagle rose vpon her talents, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not all at once, sleepe euery one in his own place, & watch by course. 9 But let the heads be preserued for the last.

10 And I beheld, and loe, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the middest of her body.

11 And I numbred her contrary feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and behold, on the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

18 And so it was, that when it reigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more : so the next following stood vp and reigned, and had a great time.

14 And it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, like as the first, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voice vnto it, and sayd,

16 Heare, thou that hast borne rule ouer the earth so long : this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more.

17 There shall none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither vnto the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other before; and appeared no

19 So went it with all the residue one after another, as that every one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I beheld, & loe, in processe of time, the feathers that followed, stood vp vpon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more: 21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and behold, the twelne feathers appeared no more, nor the two little feathers:

23 And there was no more vpon the Eagles body, but three heads that rested, and sixe little wings.

24 Then saw I also that two little feathers divided themselves from the sixe, and remained vuder the head, that was vpon the right side : for the foure continued in their place.

25 And I beheld, & lee, the feathers that were vnder the wing, thought to set vp themselues, and to haue the rule.

26 And I beheld, & loe, there was one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more. 27 And the second was sooner away then the first. 28 And I beheld, and loe, the two that remained, thought also in themselues to reigne. 29 And when they so thought, be-

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon the earth, with much oppression, and it had the governance of the world more then all the wings that liad beene.

35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the right side, denoured it, that was voon the left side. 36 Then I heard a voyce, which said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 And I beheld, and loe, as it were a roaring Lyon, chased out of the wood : and I saw that hee sent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and said, 38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the highest shall say vnto thee. 39 Art not thou it that remainest of the foure beasts, whom I made to raigne in my world, that the end of their times might come through them?

40 And the fourth came and ouercame all the beasts that were past, and had power ouer the world with great fearefulnesse, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with much wicked oppression, and so long time dwelt he vpon he earth with deceit.

41 For the earth hast thou not judged with trueth.

42 For thou hast afflicted the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such, as did thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing come vp vnto the Highest, and thy pride vnto the Mighty.

44 The Highest also hath looked vpon the proud times, and behold, they are ended, and his abominations are ulfilled.

45 And therefore appeare no more thou Eagle, nor thy horrible wings, nor

Nd it came to passe whiles the Lyon spake these words vnto the Eagle, I saw:

2 And behold, the head that remained, and the foure wings appeared no more, and the two went vnto it, and set themselves vp to raigne, and their kingdome was small and full of v Drore.

12 But it was not expounded vnto him, therefore now I declare it vnto thec.

18 Behold, the dayes will come, that there shall rise vp a kingdome vpon earth, and it shall be feared aboue all the kingdomes that were before it.

14 In the same shall twelue kings reigne, one after another.

15 Whereof the second shall begin to reigne, and shall have more time then any of the twelue.

16 And this doe the twelve wings signifie which thou savest.

17 As for the voice which thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not to goe out from the heads, but from the mids of the body thereof, this is the interpretation:

18 That after the time of that kingdome, there shall arise great striuings, and it shall stand in perill of falling : neuerthelesse it shall not then fall, but shall be restored againe to his beginning.

19 And whereas thou sawest the eight small vnder feathers sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation :

20 That in him there shal arise eight kings, whose time shall bee but small, and their yeeres swift.

21 And two of them shall perish : the middle time approching, foure shall bee kept vntill their end begin to approch: but two shall be kept vnto the end.

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation

23 In his last dayes shall the most High raise vp three kingdomes, and renew many things therein, and they shal haue the dominion of the earth,

24 And of those that dwell therein with much oppression, aboue all those that were before them : therefore are they called the heads of the Eagle.

25 For these are they that shal accomplish his wickednesse, and that shall finish his last end. 26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die voon his bed, and yet with paine.

27 For the two that remaine, shall be slaine with the sword.

28 For the sword of the one shall deuoure the other : but at the last shall he fall through the sword himselfe.

29 And whereas thou sawest two

|which was seene, in the *vision of thy | |feathers vnder the wings passing ouer the head, that is on the right side:

30 It signifieth that these are they whom the Highest hath kept vnto their end : this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as thou sawest.

31 And the Lyon whom thou sawest rising vp out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the Eagle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteousnesse, with all the words which thou hast heard, 32 This is the Anointed which the Highest hath kept for them, and for their wickednesse vnto the end : he shall reprooue them, and shall vpbraid them with their crueltie.

33 For hee shall set them before him aliue in judgement, and shall rebuke them and correct them.

34 For the rest of my people shall he deliuer with mercie, those that have bin preserved vpon my borders, and he shal make them joyfull vntill the comming of the day of judgement, whereof haue spoken vnto thee from the begin-

35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely hast bene meete to know this secret of the Highest.

37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seene, in a booke, and hide them.

38 And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend, & keepe these seerets.

39 But wait thou here thy selfe yet seuen dayes moe, that it may be shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the Highest to declare vnto thee : And with that he went his way.

CHAP. XIII.

Hee seeth in his dreame a man comming out of the sea. 25 The declaration of his dreame. 54 He is praised, and promised to see more.

Nd it came to passe after seuen dayes, I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And ||loe, there arose a winde from the sea that it mooued all the wates thereof.

3 And I belield, and loe, that man waxed strong with the ||thousands of heaven and when he turned his countenance to looke, all the things trembled that were seene vnder him.

4 And whensoeuer the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burnt, that heard his voyce, like as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 And after this I beheld, and loe, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heaven, to subdue the man that came out of the sea.

6 But I beheld, and loe, hee had graued himselfe a great mountaine, and flew vp vpon it.

7 But I would have seene the region, or place, whereout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 And after this I beheld, and loe, much better had it bene for vs, if we al- | |all they which were gathered together to subdue him, were sore afraid, and vet durst fight.

9 And loe, as hee saw the violence of the multitude that came, hee neither lift vp his hand, nor held sword, nor any instrument of warre.

10 But onely I saw that he sent out of his mouth, as it had bene a blast of fire, and out of his lippes a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and tempests,

11 And they were all mixt together; the blast of fire, the flaming breath, and the great tempest, and fel with violence vpon the multitude, which was prepared to fight, and hurnt them vp euery 49 And now goe your way home one, so that vpon a sudden, of an innumerable multitude, nothing was to be perceived, but onely dust and smell of smoke : whe I saw this, I was afraid.

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldest receiue my prayer:

15 Shew mee now yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For as I conceive in mine vnderstanding, woe vnto them that shall be left in those dayes; and much more woe vnto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in heauinesse.

18 Now vnderstand I the things that are layde up in the latter dayes, which shall happen vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, like as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier for him that is in danger, to come into || these things, then | Or, the to passe away as a cloud out of the day. world, and not to see the things that happen in the last dayes. And he answered vnto me, and said,

21 The interpretation of the vision shal I shew thee, and I wil open vnto thee, the thing that thou hast required. 22 Wherethat are left behinde, this is the interpretation.

23 He that shall endure the perill in that time, hath kept himselfe : they that be fallen into danger, are such as haue workes, and faith towards the Almightie.

24 Know this therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 This is the meaning of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man comming vp from the middest of the Sea:

26 The same is hee whom God the highest hath kept a great season, which by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature; and hee shall order them that are left behinde.

27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of winde, and fire, and storme:

28 And that he helde neither sword, nor any instrument of warre, but that the rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to subdue him, this is the interpretation.

29 Behold, the dayes come, when the most high wil begin to deliuer them that are voon the earth.

30 And he shall come to the astonishment of them that dwell on the earth. 31 And one shall vndertake to fight against another, one city against ano-Mat. 24.7 ther, one place against another, *one people against another, and one realme against another.

32 And the time shalbe, when these things shall come to passe, and the signes shall happen which I shewed thee before, and then shall my sonne be declared, whom thou sawest as a man ascending.

33 And when all the people heare his voice, euery man shall in their owne land, leave the battaile they have one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shalbe gathered together, as thou sawest them willing to come, and to ouercome him by fighting.

35 But hee shall stand vpon the top of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill grauen without hands.

37 And this my sonne shall rebuke the wicked inuentions of those nations,

22 Wheras thou hast spoken of them | which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest.

38 And shall lay before them their euill thoughts, and the torments wherwith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like vnto a flame : and hee shall destroy them without labour, by the law which is like vnto fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that hee gathered another peaceable multitude vnto him:

40 Those are the ten tribes, which were caried away prisoners out of their owne land, in the time of Osea the king, whom *Salmanasar the king of Assy- * 2. Kings ria ledde away captine, and hee caried them ouer the waters, and so came they into another land.

41 But they tooke this counsaile amongst themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and goe foorth into a further countrey, where neuer mankind dwelt,

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land.

43 And they entred into Euphrates hy the narrow passages of the Riuer.
44 For the most high then shewed till they were passed ouer.

45 For through that countrey there was a great way to goe; namely, of a yeere and a halfe: and the same region is called || Arsareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time; and now when they shall begin to come. 47 The highest shall stay the springs of the streame againe, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But those that be left behinde of thy people, are they that are found within my borders.

49 Now when hee destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shal defend his people that remaine.

50 And then shall hee shewe them great wonders.

51 Then said I, O Lord, that bearest rule, shew me this: Wherefore haue I seene the man comming vp from the midst of the Sea?

52 And he said vnto me, Like as thou canst neither seeke out, nor know the things that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so can no man vpon earth see my the day time.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou onely art here lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne way, and applied thy diligence vnto my law, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 And therefore have I shewed thee the treasures of the Highest: After other three dayes, I will speake other things vnto thee, and declare vnto thee mightie and wonderous things.

57 Then went I forth into the field giuing praise and thanks greatly vnto the most High, because of his wonders which he did in time,

58 And because hee gouerneth the same, and such things as fall in their seasons, and there I sate three dayes.

CHAP. XIIII.

A voice out of a bush calleth Esdras, 10 and telleth him that the world waxeth old, 22 He desireth, because the Law was burnt, to write all againe, 24 and is bid to get swift writers.
39 Hee and they are filled with vnderstanding: 43 but hee is charged not to publish all that is written.

Exod. 3.

Nd it came to passe, vpon the third day I sate vnder an oke, and behold, there came a voyce out of a bush ouer against me, and said,

2 And I said, Here am I Lord, and stood vp vpon my feet.

3 Then said he vnto me, "In the bush I did manifestly reueale my selfe vnto Moses, and talked with him, when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vp to the mount of Sinai, where I held him by me, a long season,

5 And told him many wonderous things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end, and commanded him, saying,

6 These wordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And now I say vnto thee,

8 That thou lay vp in thy heart the ignes that I have shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the sonne, or those that be with him, but in | interpretations which thou hast heard : 9 For thou shalt be taken away from all, and from henceforth thou shalt remaine with my sonne, and with such as be like thee, vntill the times be ended.

> 10 For the world hath lost his youth. and the times begin to wave old.

> 11 For the world is divided into twelue parts, and the ten parts of it are gone already, and halfe of a tenth part.

12 And there remaineth that which is after the halfe of the tenth part.

13 Now therefore set thine house in order, and reproue thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce corruption.

14 Let go fro thee mortall thoughts, cast away the burdens of man, put off now the weake nature, 15 And set saide the thoughts that are most heavy vnto thee, and haste thee to flie from these times.

16 For *yet greater euils then those Mat. 24. 7 which thou hast seene happen, shall bee done bereafter.

17 For looke how much the world shall be weaker through age : so much the more shall euils increase vpon them that dwell therein.

18 For the trueth is fled farre away. and leasing is hard at hand : For now hasteth the vision to come, which thou hast seene.

19 Then answered I before thee, and said.

20 Behold, Lord, I will go as thou hast commanded me, and reprodue the people which are present, but they that shall be borne afterward, who shall admonish them? thus the world is set in darkenes, and they that dwell therein. are without light.

21 For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shal begin.

22 But if I have found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that hath bene done in the world, since the beginning, which were written in thy Lawe, that men may find thy path, and that they which will live in the latter dayes, may live.

23 And he answered me, saying, Goe thy way, gather the people together, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie daves.

24 But looke thou prepare thee ma-ny ||boxe trees, and take with thee Sa tables to rea, Dabria, Selemia, ||Ecanus and covered on.

Tobit grieued with his wines taunts, prayeth. 11 Sara reproched by her fathers maides. prayeth also. 17 An Angel is sent to helpe

Hen I being grieued, did weepe, and in my sorrowe prayed, saying, 2 O Lord, thou art just and all thy workes, and all thy wayes are mercie and trueth, and thou judgest truely & justly for euer. 3 Remember me, and looke on me, punish me not for my sinnes and ignorances, and the sinnes of my fathers, who haue sinned before thee.

4 For they obeyed not thy commandements, wherefore thou hast delivered vs * for a spoile, and vnto captiuitie, and vnto death, and for a prouerbe of reproch to all the nations among whom we are dispersed.

5 And how thy judgments are many and true; Deale with me according to my sinnes, and my fathers : because we have not kept thy commandements, neither have walked in trueth before thee.

6 Now therefore deale with me as seemeth best vnto thee, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I or, dismission of the profitable for me to die pather then to live, because I have heard false reproches, and haue much sorow : command therfore that I may now be deliuered out of this distresse, and goe into the euerlasting place : turne not thy face away from me.

> 7 It came to passe the same day, that in Echatane a citie of Media, Sara the daughter of Raguel, was also reproched by her fathers maides,

> 8 Because that she had hin maried to seven husbands, whom Asmodeus the euill spirit had killed, before they had lien with her. Doest thou not knowe, said they, that thou hast strangled thine husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.

> 9 Wherefore doest thou beate vs for them? If they be dead, goe thy wayes after them, let vs neuer see of thee either sonne or daughter.

10 When she heard these things, she was very sorowful, so that she thought to have strangled her selfe, and she said, I am the onely daughter of my father. and if I doe this, it shall bee a reproch vnto him, and I shall bring his old age with sorow vnto the graue.

11 Then she prayed toward the window, & said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and thine holy and glorious Name is blessed, and honourable for euer, let al thy works praise thee for euer.

12 And now, O Lord, I set mine eyes and my face toward thee.

13 And say, take me out of the earth, that I may heare no more the reproch.

14 Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sinne with man.

15 And that I neuer polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captiuitie : I am the onely daughter of my father, neither hath he any child to bee his heire, neither any Ineere kinseman, nor any sonne of his 1 Or, brother aliue, to whome I may keepe my selfe for a wife : my seuen husbands are already dead, and why should I line? but if it please not thee that I should die. command some regard to be had of me, and pitie taken of me, that I heare no more reproch.

Helofernes besiegeth Bethulia, 7 and stop-peth the water from them. 23 They faint and murmutre against the governours, 30 Who promise to yeeld within fine dayles.

He next day Holofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should re-mooue their campe against Bethuba. to take aforehand the ascents of the hill countrey, and to make warre against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men removed their campes in that day, and the armie of the men of warre was, an hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelue thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, & other men that were afoot amongst them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the valley neere vato Bethulia, by the fountaine, and they spred themselves in breadth ouer | Dothaim, euen to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia vnto † Cvamon which is ouer against Esdraelon.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour : Now will these men licke vp the face of the earth; for neither the high mountaines, nor the valleys. nor the hile, are able to beare their waight.

5 Then enery men tooke vp his weapons of warre, and when they had kindled fires voon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day Holofernes brought foorth all his horsemen, in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethalia.

7 And viewed the passages vp to the city, and came to the fountaine of their waters, and tooke them, and set garrisons of men of warre ouer them, and he himselfe remooued towards his people.

8 Then came vnto him all the chiefe of the children of Esan, and al the gonernours of the people of Moab, and the captaines of the sea coast, and said,

9 Let our lord now heare a word, that there be not an overthrow in thine

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their speares, but in the height of the mountaines wherein they dwell, because it is not essie to come vp to the tops of their mountains.

11 Now therefore my lord, fight not against them in battell aray, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish

12 Remaine in thy campe, and keepe all the men of thine army, and let thy seruants get into their hands the fountaine of water which issueth footh of the foot of the mountaine.

18 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; so shall thirst kil them, & they shall give vp their citie, and we and our people shal goe vp to the tope of the mountaines that are neere, and will campe vpon them, to watch that none goe out of the city.

14 So they and their wives, and their children shalbe consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrowen in the streets where they dwel.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an enil reward: because they rebelled and met not thy person peaceably.

16 And these words pleased Holofernes, and al his servants, and he appointed to doe as they had spoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and tooke the waters, and the fountaines of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esan went vp, with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hil countrey over against Dotha-em : and they sent some of them toward the South, & toward the East ouer against Ekrebel, which is neere vato Chusi, that is vpon the brooke Mochmur, and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plaine, and covered the face of the whole land, and their tents and cariages were pitched to a very great multitude.

19 Then the children of Israel cried vnto the Lord their God, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, & there was no way to escape out from among

21 And the || cisternes were emptied, and they had not water to drinke their fill, for one day; for they gaue them drinke hy measure.

22 Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and yong men fainted for thirst, and fell downe in the streetes of the city, and hy the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chiefe of the city, both young men, and women, and children, and cryed with a loude voice, and saide before all the Elders;

24 God *be Iudge betweene vs and you : for you have done vs great injury in that you have not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we have no helper : but God hath sold vs into their hands, that wee should be throwen downe before them with thirst, and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them vnto you, and deliuer the whole citie for a spoile to the people of Olofernes, and to all his armie.

27 For it is better for vs to be made a spoile vnto them, then to die for thirst: for wee will be his seruants, that our soules may liue, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wines nor our children to die.

28 We take to witnesse against you, the heaven and the earth, and our God, and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to our sinnes, and the sinnes of our fathers, that | hee doe 1 Or. lest he not according as we have said this day. doe: mea-ning, Olo-fernes.

29 Then there was great weeping with one consent in the middest of the assembly, and they cryed vnto the Lord

God with a loude voice.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let vs yet endure fiue dayes, in the which space the Lord our God may turne his mercy toward vs, for he will not forsake vs vt

31 And if these dayes passe, and there come no helpe vnto vs, I wil doe according to your word.

32 And he dispersed the people euery one to their owne charge, and they went vnto the walles and towres of their citie, and sent the women and

CHAP. VIII.

 The state and behaviour of Iudeth a widow.
 She blameth the governors for their promise to yeeld: 17 and aduleth them to trust. in God. 28 They excuse their promise. 32 She promiseth to doe something for them.

Ow at that time Iudeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari thesonne of Ox, the sonne of Ioseph. the sonne ziel, the sonne of Ekcia, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the son of Acitho, the sonne of Eliu, the sonne of Eliah, the sonne of Nathanael, the sonne of || Samsel, the | Or. Sam sonne of Salasadai, the son of Israel.

2 And Manasses was her husband of her tribe and kinred, who died in the barley haruest. 3 For as hee stood overseeing them that bound sheaues in the field, the heat came vpon his head, and hee fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers, in the field betweene Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Iudeth was a widow in her house three yeeres, and foure moneths.

5 And she made her a tent vpon the top of her house, and put on sackecloth on her loynes, and ware her widowes apparell.

6 And she fasted all the dayes of her widowhood, saue the eues of the Sabbath, and the Sabbaths, and the eues of the newe Moones, and the newe Moones, and the Feasts, and solemne dayes of the house of Israel.

7 Shee was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautifull to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her golde and siluer, and men seruants and maide seruants, and cattell, and lands. lland she remained vpon them.

8 And there was none that gaue her an ill worde; for shee feared God greatly.

9 Now when shee heard the euill wordes of the people against the gouernor, that they fainted for lacke of water (for Iudeth had heard all the wordes that Ozias had spoken vnto them, and that he had *sworne to deliuer the citie * Chs. 7.98. vnto the Assyrians after fine dayes)

10 Then shee sent her waiting woman that had the gouernment of all things

things that she had, to call Osias, and | Gentiles, wheresoeuer we shall bee in Chabris, and Charmis, the ancients of the citie.

11 And they came vnto her, and she said vnto them. Hears me now. O vee governours of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your wordes that you have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this othe which ye made, and pronounced betweene God and you, and have promised to deliver the citie to our enemies, volesse within these daies the Lord turne to helpe you.

12 And now who are you, that have tempted God this day, & stand in stead of God amongst the children of men?

13 And now trie the Lord Almighty. but you shall neuer know any thing.

14 For you cannot find the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh : then how can you search out God, that hath made all these things, and knowe his minde, or comprehend his purpose? Nay my brethren, prouoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not helpe vs within these few dayes, he hath power to defend vs when he will, euen euery day, or to destroy vs before our enemies.

Or, ingage. 16 Doe not | hinde the counsels of the Numb. 23 Lord our God, for * God is not as man, that he may be threatned, neither is he as the sonne of man that he should bee wauering.

17 Therefore let vs waite for salustion of him, and call vpon him to helpe vs, and he will heare our voyce if it please him. 18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any now in these daies, neither tribe, nor familie, nor | people, nor city among vs, which worship gods made with hands, as hath bene afore-

19 For the which cause our fathers *Indg. 9. 11 * were given to the sword, & for a spoile, and 4. 1. and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other god: therefore we trust that he will not despise vs, nor any of our nation.

21 For if we be taken so, all Iudea shall lie waste, and our Sanctuarie shall be spoiled, and he will require the prophanation thereof, at our mouth.

22 And the ||slanghter of our hrethren, and the captivitie of the countrey, and the desolation of our inheritance, will he turne vpon our heads among the bondage, and we shall be an offence and reproch to all them that possesse va.

23 For our seruitude shall not be directed to favour : but the Lord our God shall turne it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let vs shew an example to our hrethren. because their hearts depend vpon vs, and the Sanctuary, and the house, and the Altar rest vpon vs.

25 Moreover, let vs give thankes to the Lord our God, which trieth vs. euen as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, Gen. 22. 1 and what happened to * Iacoh in Me. * Gen. 18. 7 sopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For, hee hath not tried vs in the fire as he did them, for the examination of their hearts, neither hath hee taken vengeance on vs : but the Lord doeth scourge them that come neere vato him to admonish them.

28 Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainesay thy words.

29 For this is not the first day wherin thy wisedome is manifested, but from the beginning of thy dayes all thy people haue knowen thy vnderstanding, because the disposition of thine heart is

30 But the people were very thirsty, and compelled vs to doe vnto them as we have spoken, and to bring an other vpon our selues, which wee will not

31 Therefore now pray thou for vs, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord will send vs raine to fill our cisternes, and we shall faint no more.

32 Then said Iudeth vnto them, Heare me, and I wil doe a thing, which shall goe throughout all generations. to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will goe foorth with my waiting woman : and within the dayes that you have promised to deliver the citie to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel hy mine hand.

34 But inquire not you of mine act: for I will not declare it vnto you, til the things be finished that I doe.

CHAP. IX.

Iudeth humbleth herselfe, 2 and prayeth God to prosper her purpose against the enemies of his sanctuarie.

Hen Iudeth fell vpon her face, and put ashes vpon her head, and vncouered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed, and about the time, that the incense of that euening was offered in Ierusalem, in the house of the Lord, Iudeth cryed with a loud voyce, and said,

2 O Lord God of my father Simeon, to whom thou gauest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a maide to defile her, and discouered the thigh to her shame, and polluted her virginity to her reproch, (for thou saidst it shall not be so, and yet they did so.)

3 Wherefore thou gauest their rulers to be slaine, so that they died their bedinhlood, being deceived, and smotest the seruants with their Lords, and the

Lords vpon their thrones:

4 And hast given their wives for pray, and their daughters to bee captiues, and all their spoiles to be divided amongst thy deere children : which were mooued with thy zeale, and ahhorred the pollution of their blood, and called vpon thee for aide : O God, O my God, heare me also a widow.

5 For thou hast wrought not onely those things, but also the things which fell out before, and which ensewed after, thou hast thought voon the things which are now, and which are to come.

6 Yea what things thou didst determine were redy at hand, and said, loe we are heere; for all thy wayes are prepa red, and thy judgements are in thy foreknowledge.

7 For behold, the Assyrians are multiplyed in their power : they are exalted with horse and man : they glory in the strength of their footemen : they trust in shield and speare, and bow, and sling, and know not that thou art the Lord that breakest the battels : the Lord is thy name. 8 Throw downe their strength in thy power, and hring downe their force in thy wrath; for they have purposed to defile thy Sanctuary, and to pollute the Tabernacle, where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast downe with sword the horne of thy altar.

9 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath vpon their heads : give into mine hand which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.

10 *Smite hy the deceit of my lips the 11 lodg. 4. seruant with the prince, and the prince 21. & 5. 20. with the seruant : hreake downe their statelinesse by the hand of a woman.

11 *For thy power standeth not in laude 7.1 multitude, nor thy might in strong men, 11. and 16. for thou art a God of the afflicted, an s. & 20.6. helper of the oppressed, an vpholder of the weake, a protector of the forelorne, a saujour of them that are without hope

12 I pray thee, I pray thee, O God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel. Lord of the heavens, and earth, creator of the waters, king of euery creature : heare thou my prayer :

13 And make my speech and deceit to be their wound & stripe, who have purposed cruell things against thy couenant, and thy hallowed house, and against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that thou art the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the people of Israel hut thou.

CHAP. X.

3 Iudeth doth set forth herselfe. 10 She and her maide goe forth into the campe. 17 The watch take and conduct her to Olofernes.

Ow after that she had ceased to cry vnto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all there end of all these words, 2 She rose where she had fallen downe, and called her maide, and went downe into the house, in the which she abode in the Sabbath dayes and in her feast dayes,

3 And pulled off the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all ouer with water, and annointed herselfe with precious ointment, and hraided the haire of her head, and put on talt Gre. miter tire vpon it, and put on her garments of gladnesse, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And she tooke sandals vpon her feete, and put about her, her bracelets: and her chaines, and her rings, and her earerings, and all her ornaments, and decked her selfe brauely to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then she gaue her mayd a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oyle, and filled a bagge with parched corne, and lumnes of figs, and with fine bread, so she || folded all these things together, and layd them vpon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the citie of Bethulia, and found standiug there Oxias, and the ancients of the city Chabris, and Charmis.

7 And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beautie very greatly, and said vnto her, 8 The God, the God of our fathers give thee fanour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem : then they worshipped God.

9 And she said vnto them, Command the gates of the city to be opened vnto me, that I may goe forth to accomplish the things, whereof you have spoken with me; so they commanded the yong men to open vnto her, as shee had

10 And when they had done so, Iudeth went out, she and her mayd with her, and the men of the citic looked after her, vntill shee was gone downe the mountaine, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight foorth in the valley: and the first watch of the Assyrians met her;

12 And tooke her, and asked her. Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hehrewes, and am fled from them: for they shalbe given you to be consumed: 13 And I am comming before Olofernes the chiefe captaine of your army, to declare words of trueth, and I will shew him a way, whereby he shall goe, and winne all the hil countrey, without loosing the body or life of any one of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her wordes, and beheld her countenance. they wondered greatly at her beautie, and said vnto her:

15 Thou hast saued thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come downe to the ipresence of our lord : now therfore come to his tent, and some of vs shall conduct thee, vntill they have delivered thee to his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, bee not afraid in thine heart : hut shew voto him according to thy word, and he will intreat thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them an hundred men, to [accompany her and lor, and her mayd, and they brought her to the they prepatent of Olofernes.

18 Then was there a concourse throughout all the campe: for her comming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Olofernes, till they told him of her.

19 And they wondered at her beautie, and admired the children of Israel because of her, and euery one said to his neighbour; Who would despise this people, that have among them such women, surely it is not good that one man of them be left, who being let goe, might deceive the whole earth.

20 And they that lay neere Olofernes, went out, and all his seruants, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Now Olofernes rested vpon his bed vnder a canopie which was wouen with purple, and gold, and emeraudes, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, and he came out before his tent, with silver lampes going before him.

23 And when Iudeth was come before him and his seruants, they all marueiled at the beautie of her countenance; and she fel downe vpon her face. and did renerence vnto him; and his seruants tooke her vp.

CHAP. XI.

Olofernes asketh Iudeth the cause of her comming. 6 She telleth him how, and when hee may preuaile. 20 Hee is much pleased with her wisedome and beautie.

Hen said Olofernes vnto her, Woman, bee of good comfort, feare not in thine heart : for I neuer hurt any, that was willing to serue Nabuchodonosor the king of all the earth.

Chap.xj.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come vnto vs : for thou art come for safeguard, be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter.

4 For none shall hurt thee, hut intreat thee well, as they doe the seruants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Iudeth said vnto him, Re ceiue the words of thy seruant, and suffer thine handmaid to speake in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thine handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, and my lord shall not faile of his purposes,

7 As Nabuchodonosor king of al the earth liueth, and as his power liueth, who hath sent thee for the vpholding of every living thing : for not only men shall serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattell, and the foules of the aire shall liue by thy power, vnder Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For wee haue heard of thy wisedome, and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that thou onely art 10r, infa- excellent in all the kingdome, and mightie in knowledge, and wonderfull in feates of warre.

9 Now as concerning the matter which Achior did speake in thy counsell, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia || saued him, and hee declared vnto them all that hee had spoken vnto thee.

10 Therefore, O lord and gouernor, reject not his word, but lay it vp in thine heart, for it is true, for our nation shall not be punished, neither can the sword preuaile against them, except they sinne against their God.

11 And now, that my lord be not defcated, and frustrate of his purpose, euen death is now fallen vpon them, and their sinne hath ouertaken them, wherewith they will prouoke their God to anger, whensoeuer they shall doe that which is not fit to be done.

12 For their victuals faile them, and all their water is scant, and they haue determined to lay hands vpon their cattell, and purposed to consume all those things, that God hath forhidden them to eate by his Lawes,

18 And are resolved to spend the first fruits of the corne, & the tenths of wine and oyle, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the Priests that serve in Icrusalem, before the face of our God, the which things it is not lawfull for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands.

4 Then said Iudeth vnto him, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thine handemaid shall not spend those things that I have, before the Lord worke by mine hand, the things y he hath determined.

5 Then the seruants of Olofernes brought her into the tent, and shee slept til midnight, and she arose when it was towards the morning watch,

6 And sent to Olofernes, saying, Let my lord now command, that thine handmaid may goe forth vnto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commaunded his guard that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the camp three dayes, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in a fountaine of water by the campe.

8 And when she came out, shee besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way, to the raising vp of the children of her people.

9 So she came in cleane, and remained in the tent, vntill shee did eate her meat at euening.

10 And in the fourth day Olofernes made a feast to his owne servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet.

II Then said he to Bagoas the Eunuch, who had charge ouer all that he had : Goe now, and perswade this Ebrewe woman which is with thee, ithat she come vnto vs, and eate and drinke with vs.

12 For loc, it will be a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company : for if we draw her not vnto vs. she will laugh vs

IS Then went Bagoas from the presence of Olofernes, and came to her, and he said. Let not this faire damosell feare to come to my lord, and to bec honoured in his presence, and drink wine, and be merry with vs. and be made this day as one of the daughters of the Assyrians, which serue in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Iudeth vnto him, Who am I now, that I should gainesay my lord? surely whatsoeuer pleaseth him, I will doe speedily, and it shall bee my ioy vnto the day of my death.

15 So she arose, and decked her selfe with her apparell, and all her womans attire, and her maid went and laid soft skinnes on the ground for her, ouer a gainst Olofernes, which she had receiued of Bagoas for her daily vse, that she might sit, and eate vpon them.

16 Now when Iudeth came in, and sate downe, Olofernes his heart was rauished with her, and his minde was moued, and he desired greatly her company, for hee waited a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seene her. 17 Then said Olofernes vnto her,

Drinke now, and be merry with vs. 18 So Iudeth saide, I will drinke now my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day, more then all the dayes since I was borne. 19 Then she tooke and ate and dranke before him what her maide had prepared.

20 And Olofernes tooke great delight in her, & dranke much more wine, then he had drunke at any time in one day, since he was borne.

waiters from the presence of his lord, both small and great, for it was strange and they went to their beds : for they were all weary, because the feast had bene long.

2 And Iudeth was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes lying along vpon his bed, for hee was filled with *wine.

3 Now Indeth had commanded her maide to stand without her bedchamber, and to waite for her comming forth as she did daily : for she said, she would goe forth to her prayers, and she spake to Bagoas, according to the same purpose.

4 So all went forth, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither little, nor great. Then Iudeth standing by his bed, said in her heart : O Lord God of all power, looke at this present vpon the workes of mine bands for the exaltation of Icrusalem.

5 For now is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies, which are risen against vs.

6 Then she came to the pillar of the bed, which was at Olofernes head, and tooke downe his fauchin from thence.

7 And approched to his bed, and tooke hold of the haire of his head, and said, Strengthen mee, O Lord God of Israel, this day.

8 And she smote twise vpon his necke with all her might, and she tooke away his head from him,

9 And tumbled his body downe from the bed, and pulled downe the canopy from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gane Olofernes his head to her maide.

10 And she put it in her bag of meate, so they twaine went together according to their custome vnto prayer, and when they passed the campe, they compassed the valley, and went vp the mountaine of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 Then said Iudeth a farre off to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate : God, even our God is with vs, to shew his power yet in Ierusalem, and his forces against the enemie, as he hath euen done this day.

12 Now when the men of her citie heard her voyce, they made haste to goe downe to the gate of their citie, and they called the Elders of the citie.

13 And then they ranne altogether

vnto them that she was come : so they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them.

14 Then she said to them with a loud voyce, Praise, praise God, praise God, (I say) for hee hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Isralel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So she tooke the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said vnto them, Behold the head of Olofernes the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, and behold the canopy wherein he did lie in his drunkennesse, and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a wo-

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselues, and worshipped God, and said with one accord : Blessed be thou, O onr God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God, aboue all the women vpon the earth, and hiessed be the Lord God. which hath created the heavens, and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chiefe of our enemies.

19 For this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which emember the power of God for euer.

20 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetuall praise, to visite thee in good things, because thou hast not spared thy life for v affliction of our nation , but hast revenged our ruine, walking a straight way before our God: and all the people said, So be it, so be it.

Achior heareth Iudeth shewe what she had done, and is circumcised. 11 the head of Olofernes is hanged vp, 15 hee is found dead, and much lamented.

Hen saide Iudeth vnto them, Heare me now, my brethren, & take this head, 2. Mac. 15. and hang it vpon the highest place of your walles.

2 And so soone as the morning shall | came to their Captaines, and tribunes, appeare, and the Sunne shal come forth ypon the earth, take you every one his weapons, and goe forth every valiant man out of the city, & set you a captaine ouer them, as though you would goe downe into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians, but goe not downe.

3 Then they shal take their armour. and shal goe into their campe, and raise vp the captaines of the armie of Assur. and they shall runne to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him, then feare shall fall vpon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So you, and all that inhabite the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and ouerthrow them as they goe.

5 But before you doe these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that hee may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to vs as it were to his death.

6 Then they called Achier out of the house of Ozias, and when hee was come, and saw the head of Olofernes in a mans hand, in the assembly of the people, he fell downe on his face, and a head. his spirit failed.

7 But when they had recourred him, hee fell at Iudeths feete, and reucrenced her, and said : Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Iuda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name shall be astonished.

8 Now therefore tell mee all the things that thou hast done in these dayes : Then Judeth declared vnto him in the midst of the people, all that shee had done from the day that shee went foorth, vntill that houre she spake vnto them.

9 And when shee had left off speaking, the people shouted with a lowd voice, & made a joyful noise in their citie.

10 And when Achior had seene all that the God of Israel had done, hee beleeued in God greatly, and circumcised the foreskinne of his flesh, and was joyned vnto the house of Israel vnto this day.

14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the doore of the tent : for he thought that he had slept with Indeth.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast vpon the floore dead, & his head was taken from him.

16 || Therefore he cried with a lowd | Then. voice, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.

17 After, hee went into the tent, where Judeth lodged, and when liee found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried;

5 Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell vpon them with one consent, and slewe them vnto Choba: likewise also they that came from Ierusalem, and from all the hill country, for men had told them what things were done in the campe of their enemies, and they that were in Galaad and in Galile || chased them with a great slaughter, vntill they were past Damascus, and the borders thereof.

6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fell vpon the campe of Assur, and spoiled them, & were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had that which remained, and the villages, and the cities that were in the mountaines, and in the plaine, gate many spoiles : for the multitude was very great.

8 Then Ioacim the high Priest, and the Ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Ierusalem, came to behold the good things that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Iudeth, and to salute her.

9 And when they came vnto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said vnto her, Thou art the exaltation of Ierusalem : thou art the great glory of Israel: thou art the great reloycing

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hand : thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed bee thou of the Almightie Lord for evermore : and all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoiled the campe, the space of thirty dayes, and they gave vnto Iudeth Olofernes his tent, and all his plate, and beds, and vessels, and all his stuffe: and she tooke it, and laide it on her mule, and made ready her carts, and laid them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel ran together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her : and shee tooke branches in her hand, & gaue also to the women that were with her.

13 And they put a garland of oliue vpon her, and her maid that was with her, and shee went before the people in the dance, leading all the women : and all the men of Israel followed in their armor with garlands, and with songs in their mouthes.

The song of Iudeth. 19 She dedicateth the stuffe of Olofernes. 23 Shee died at Bethulia a widow of great honour. 24 All Israel did lament her death.

6 But the Almighty Lord hath disappointed them by the hand of a woman. 7 For the mighty one did not fall by the yong men, neither did the sonnes of the Titans smite him, nor high gyants set vpon him : hut Iudeth the daughter of Merari weakned him with the beau-

17 Woe to the nations that rise vp against my kinred : the Lord almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement in putting fire & wormes in their flesh, and they shall feele them and weepe for euer.

18 Now assoone as they entred into Icrusalem, they worshipped the Lord. and assoone as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their gifts.

19 Judeth also dedicated all the stuffe of Olofernes, which the people had giuen her, and gaue the canopy which she had taken out of his bed chamber, for a! wift vnto the Lord.

20 So the people continued feasting in Ierusalem before the Sanctuarie. for the space of three moneths, and ludeth remained with them.

21 After this time, every one returned to his owne inheritance, and Iudeth went to Bethulia, and remained in her owne possession, and was in her time honourable in all the countrey.

22 And many desired her, but none knew her all the dayes of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

23 But she encreased more and more in honour, and waxed olde in her husbands house, being an hundred and five yeeres olde, and made her maide free, so shee died in Bethulia : and they buried her in the ||caue of her husband | Or, seput-Manasses.

of the palace. 2 * And he heard their deuices, and Ester 2.21 searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands vpon Artaxerxes the king, and so he certified the king of them.

3 Then the king examined the two Eunuches, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.

4 And the king made a record of these things, and Mardocheus also wrote thereof.

5 So the king commaunded Mardocheus to scrue in the court, and for this he rewarded him.

6 Howbeit Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people, because of the two Eunuches of the king.
